Fun Facts about Cars the Movie:

The 1952 Walt Disney Studios short, “Susie, the Little Blue Coupe,” served as the impetus that sparked the idea for Cars decades later.

Luigi’s license plate reads 445-108, which is the latitude and longitude for the Ferrari factory in Modena, Italy.

A Model T named Lizzie appears in the film as homage to Ford’s original 1913 “Tin Lizzie,” the first mass-produced car.

The name “Cozy Cone” was inspired by the Cozy Dog Drive-In of Springfield, Illinois, which lays claim to being birthplace of the corn dog.

Animators drew over 43,000 sketches of cars during the visual development phase of filmmaking.

All of the jet trails in the film’s sky scenes are actually tire marks.
